

Feature film

"Chasing Bitcoins"

Name variants:

"How to get rich on Bitcoins"

"Chasing Bitcoins"

"189 Bitcoins in 2 hours"

Genre: comedy, crime

Runtime: 90 minutes

Audience: 16-35 years

Logline:

Adventurer Konstantin owes large sums of money to various crime bosses. During journalistic investigation, he learns about the forgotten laptop, where 189 bitcoins are kept since 2010. But in order to get this laptop, Konstantin needs to persuade the crime bosses to lend him money one more time, put his apartment on the line and outrun other hunters for the laptop.

About the author

Alexander Egurchikov, 32 years old.

I have been editing since 2009. Videos and trailers for amateur films. One of the first projects.

Since 2012, after studying After Effects, I have re-qualified as a Motion Designer. Freelancer (example: video series for translation agencies) + samples author for After Effects on videohive.net.

Since 2014 I have been making social videos (example: 2d place in the Russian National competition "My alternative")

Since 2015 I have started writing scripts for short and feature films. I finished 2 screenwriting schools, studied more than 20 courses and 10 books on screenwriting.

Since 2017 I started to pitching:

- a. 2d place in debutant pitching and won producer`s support from RFG to create a script.
- b. Became a finalist of the pitching "Show the script to the producer"
- c. Got into the long-list of the Disney scriptwriters competition "Happiness is..."

In 2017 I created the scenario group "Ekranika" for creative work in the screen life format. For a year in "Ekranika" I wrote 12 scripts of short films, synopsis, applications for feature films and shows (the best was sent to the contest). In 2018 I wrote for 3 days and made a social video in screen life format for the Mail Group contest.

At the moment I am preparing to make two short films in screen life format.